CONTENTS

List of Figures xv
Table of Statutes xvii
Table of Cases xix

Introduction 1

1. A Theory of Criminal Law Theories 3

Part I. The Theory of Criminal Law's Function

2. Closet Retributivism 83
3. The Moral Worth of Retribution 104
4. Justifying Retributivism 153

Part II. The Theory of the General Part: The Theory of Responsibility

A. The Nature of Moral Responsibility 189
5. The Independent Moral Significance of Wrongdoing 191

B. The Elements of Responsibility: Wrongdoing and Culpability 249

1. The Nature of Wrongdoing 249

a. The Nature of Human Action 249
6. More on Act and Crime 251

b. The Nature of Causation 331
7. Causation, Rights-Violations, and Wrongdoing 333
8. Foreseeing Harm Opaquely 363

2. The Nature of Culpability 401

a. The Nature of Mental States 401
9. Prima Facie Moral Culpability 403
10. Mind, Brain, and the Unconscious 420

11. Intentions and Mens Rea 449
b. The Nature of Excuse 479
12. Causation and the Excuses 481
13. Choice, Character, and Excuse 548

C. The Agents Who Can Be Responsible: The Nature of Personhood 593
14. Mental Illness and Responsibility 595
15. An Overview of the Criminal Law's Theory of the Person 610

Part III. The Theory of the Special Part: Theories of Legislation and of Wrongful Action

A. The Theory of Proper Legislative Aim 637
16. A Non-Exclusionary Theory of Legislative Aim: Taking Aim at Moral Wrongdoing 639

B. The Theory of Moral Wrongfulness 667
17. Torture and the Balance of Evils 669

C. The Theory of the Limits of Criminal Legislation 737
18. Liberty's Limits on Legislation 739

References 796
Index 831